

A photograph of a wedding setup in a grand hall. Two white high-back armchairs are positioned on a black and white checkered floor. The chair on the left has two pink pillows and a small table with two glasses of champagne and a floral centerpiece. The chair on the right is decorated with a vertical garland of orange and pink roses. A large, ornate chandelier hangs from the ceiling. The background shows a hallway with framed artwork and warm lighting.

Chicago History Museum WEDDINGS

A black and white photograph of the Chicago History Museum's neoclassical facade, featuring large columns and a pediment. In the foreground, a bride and groom are walking down the steps, holding hands. The bride is wearing a long white dress and holding a bouquet, while the groom is in a tuxedo. The image is used as a background for the text.

a space

to memories.

Sip cocktails next to one of Chicago's first "L" cars. Dance the night away against a backdrop of Lincoln Park's lush gardens and the glittering lights of the city skyline. Celebrate your life-changing moments in a place dedicated to embracing memories.

Tucked along the grounds of Lincoln Park, steps from the lake, a short cab ride from downtown, the Chicago History Museum is the perfect place to start the story of a lifetime or host a celebration for the record books.

A black and white photograph of two women in wedding dresses sitting on a windowsill, looking out a large window. The woman on the left is wearing a white halter-neck dress, and the woman on the right is wearing a white dress with a textured, possibly lace or beaded, bodice. They are both smiling and looking towards each other. The window is large and multi-paned, with a decorative frame. The background outside the window shows bare trees, suggesting a winter or early spring setting.
