BISHOP'S LODGE

THE ART OF ADVENTURE & THE ADVENTURE OF ART

Over 150 years ago French Bishop Jean Baptiste Lamy settled into the picturesque valley as a place of respite and reflection; an escape from the struggles of 19th century pioneer life in historic Santa Fe.

The Resort completed a sensitive restoration to preserve its distinctive southwest heritage for generations to come. Located minutes from the historic cultural and artistic center, adjacent to the vast Santa Fe National Forest, Bishop's Lodge is the iconic gateway to a world of discovery at the foot of the enchanting Sangre de Cristo Mountains.
